Dental Emergency FAQ

What to do in a dental emergency ?

When a dental emergency arises, it is important to contact an emergency dental clinic immediately and seek treatment as soon as possible. If a tooth is knocked out, place it in a container with white milk and take it to the dentist directly to see if it can be replaced. A tea bag or cloth may be used to apply gentle pressure to slow any bleeding as needed. Provide all necessary information to the dentist, and they will decide on the correct procedure for your dental emergency.
